Your Monthly Update

SUCCESSFUL WEBSITE LAUNCH!

It is no coincidence that our new website was launched as March 13 rolled onto the 14th when the daylight saving time began in 2010. One week later, on March 20, our social media: twitter, facebook and You-tube sites were launched as we entered the first day of spring.

We rejoice to observe the divine timing. While we had a date in mind to complete and launch both the website and social media, there were challenges and technical difficulties that tried to stop us, but surprisingly 'rescheduled' the dates and times to synchronize with nature.

Time skipped and spring sprang to announce a change; the birth of a new season and a hope for humanity, spiritually and naturally. This spiritual program is beginning to materialize before our very eyes. While some will watch it happen, we get to play a role in this great humanitarian mission. Now it is your work session to SPREAD THE WORD both in your community and nationwide that "help is here". It is new, fresh, life, HMF!

Humanitarian Mission: Phase I

Our Work Sessions

Today, we are at a place where only a few months ago, we looked forward to be. We are confident that God who has begun a good work in and through us, will accomplish it. We have only just begun.

The game plan is to provide you and friends of HMF the tools for sharing this good news with the American public, by launching the new website, complete with the disclosures, petition and verification pages. It is important that every adult petitions their Senator and/or Representative as programs will be implemented in your community and State based on demand.

Don't forget to save a copy of your PETITION, the reply and verification as required proofs, when you apply in the near future to avail of the HMF services and employment opportunities. This is your only participation to get in the priority list..

Upcoming Events

Our upcoming events will be announced on our website. You can also get quick updates on twitter, facebook and You-tube.

Become a fan on facebook and follow us on twitter for more interactive communication. See our videos on You-tube and get everyone you know to these sites especially to PETITION the establishment of HMF USA. The international main headquarters for both domestic and international activities of the Foundation in collaboration with the Government of the United States of America .

*It's your work session.
How's your participation?*

The recent launch of the website and social media reminds us of a pilot's experience he shared with us sometime ago. He talked about what pilots call "the point of no return". That's about the halfway point from take-off to landing.

Using the flight from Los Angeles to Hawaii as an example, the six plus-hour flight is over the pacific ocean the entire time. Without an airport or airstrip to land on in the event of an emergency, one has to make sure that everything is in working order at take-off. The does not only apply to the airplane but the pilot as well.

The small Learjet plane he flew had an inadequate bathroom. He has to use the bathroom at the airport before take-off, and even avoid drinking coffee during the flight since he had a one and a half hour bladder. The initial part of the flight is the only opportunity to determine the flight would be fine and go on, or to detect any problems and return.

At the point of no return, the pilot must determine if he'll commit to continue or abort the flight. Once the pilot commits, then no matter what happens on the other part of the flight, the pilot has to keep going forward because he's past the point of no return where he can safely return to his point of departure. He must continue to the destination airport or ditch in the ocean. We do not ditch anywhere, but press on to the goal.

We at HMF have crossed the point of no return for this mission. We have committed even before the website launch that we're all set, pilot, crew, fuel and plane. This is it! We have our destination in mind and we're in touch with that control tower. Dear friends, we've come this far by FAITH and we're going all the way because the time for GOD to favor us has come. With GOD everything is possible. To GOD be the glory!
